2022 Nevada Aviation Association Year in Review January 9, 2023
By Kenneth G. Moen, A.A.E., President

I hope that you and your family enjoyed a pleasant Christmas holiday and I want to wish you and yours a Happy New Year. 2023 is an opportunistic year for the Nevada Aviation Association (NvAA). In 2022, the NvAA made several strategic moves to position the NvAA for opportunities over the next 12 months. I want to take a few moments to highlight some of those changes and outline next steps for getting off on the right foot for the new year.

The high point for the year was the NvAA gathering in Reno, Nevada at the end of March for our annual conference. Eighty in-person attendees (including presenters) and two virtual attendees attended the conference. A post-conference survey distributed by KCA (NvAA management service provider) indicates that attendees rated the agenda, accommodations, meals, and conference networking opportunities as "excellent."

The NvAA Board approved the association's Strategic Plan in October 2020 outlining the Mission and Vision of the NvAA and approved a name change from Nevada Airports Association to the Nevada Aviation Association. This name change has been critical to growing the NvAA membership base that now includes government agencies, airport stakeholders, aeronautical service providers, corporate flight departments, and other industry operators that have a vested interested in the expansion and success of the aviation industry in the State of Nevada. Our membership has grown from 61 in 2021 to 85 in 2022 or 39%. Membership growth is critical for our organization. The larger megaphone that the NvAA can speak with at the 2023 Legislative session will help us carry our message to the people who can support our agenda to obtain appropriate funding for the Nevada Fund for Aviation. Link for the membership brochure is here https://nevadaaviation.org/Membership.

In 2022, we promoted the member's use of the new and improved NvAA website to function as the primary resource of information and archive of information related to NvAA operations. There are additional tools for member to use and include an up-to-date membership directory and access to the Digicast, an online airport modular training platform. Access to Digicast materials is limited to NvAA members. Aviation professionals - large and small – now have easy access to high quality training materials. Digicast can be used to provide professional-level training for the benefit of all NvAA members, not just airport memebers. These materials will elevate the knowledge base of airport users and airport staff thus raising the professionalism of Nevada airport users and staff. The cost of Digicast is included in the NVAA membership and is a significant savings compared to the cost of the subscribing to the standard Digicast program separately.

In 2022, the Nevada DOT consultant delivered a presentation at the 2022 annual conference on the completed Nevada Airport and Heliport System Plan (NASHP). The NvAA, had a seat at the table as a member of the Technical Advisory Committee and the NvAA had the vision as the primary stakeholder in the development and implementation of Nevada's statewide NASHP. The NASHP includes an inventory of airport facilities and infrastructure, an aeronautical forecast, economic impact study, and an Airport Regional Value (ARV) metric. The ARV is designed to provide a methodology for assessing specific characteristics that affect an airport's attractiveness and ability to support demand in a region. ARV establishes a series of attributes common to airports and assigns a value for each variable based on typical aeronautical facilities and services at similarly situated airports. This specific guidance helps each airport to effectively perform its role at the federal, state, regional, and/or local levels enhancing the statewide aviation system. The NvAA will use the NASHP to raise the level of understanding of the State Legislature and the State Transportation Board to support proper funding for airport development and facilitate aeronautical transportation across the state.

In support of the NASHP, the NvAA has undertaken the initiative to install ADS-B receivers at Nevada airports that meet the criteria of access to stable electrical power and broadband internet. The NvAA has installed sixteen ADS-B receivers at Nevada airports. The goal is to install ADS-B receivers at the remaining Nevada airports that are properly equipped. The NvAA will utilize the ADS-B data collected by the receivers to draw a detailed picture of aeronautical activity at Nevada airports. Airports that have installed ADS-B receivers (at no cost) will have access to live traffic information via an internet dashboard allowing airports to generate airport activity reports up to 7 days in the past. AWOS weather data reports are also available to airport managers. The live traffic view helps airport managers maintain situational awareness and you don't have to be at the airport to access the live traffic view.

New Board Members

In October the NvAA Board of Directors welcomed two new Board members. Alex Kovacs, Director of Finance at the Reno-Tahoe Airport Authority, was elected Treasurer and Betty Marquez, Administrative Assistant at Elko County Public Works Department, was elected Secretary. We want to thank Shane Dyer for his work as treasurer for the past four and a half years.

Next Steps

Continued membership growth is one of our top priorities. It should be the goal of all NvAA members to bring new members into the fold of the NvAA. We will be announcing new initiatives for 2023.

Spring conference. A conference committee has been formed to iron out conference details to include the program, location, networking events, sponsorship, and exhibition opportunities. The conference is scheduled for March 27-29th at the Eldorado Hotel and Casino in downtown Reno.
